Temperature Indicating Labels are a cost-effective solution to display temperatures of food and medical supply packaging or of components during research, repair and maintenance. The extremely low label profile allows for application on various components, or on industrial and household applications. Brady offers both Reversible and Irreversible Temperature Indicating Labels.

Quick, easy and cost-effective

- Instant response on a large reading field
- No batteries or glass
- Continuous monitoring, even during power loss
- Strong adhesive for any surface

Reversible temperature indicating labels

- Change colour at designated temperatures
- Temperature ranges between 0°C and 100°C
- Highly customisable

Irreversible temperature indicating labels

- Permanent temperature indication
- Change colour on reaching a predetermined temperature
- Highly customisable

Temperature Indicating Labels are preferably applied on a dry, clean surface for maximum effectiveness. At the same time, their strong adhesive minimises the possibility of labels falling off, even on dirty or uneven surfaces.

Customised Temperature Indicating Labels

Other temperature ranges, sizes and customised designs are available on demand, subject to minimum order quantities.
